

Troutman Sanders seeks to hire first year law students who are interested in partnering with us for the 2019 LCLD 1L Scholars Program. Our annual summer program is consistently one of the highest regarded in our markets, and we want you to know why.

Our summer program strives to give our summer associates a realistic view of the culture at Troutman Sanders and help them bridge the gap between academia and practice. Our summer associates work on current projects for actual clients. They participate in meetings as well as attend strategy sessions and closings. They draft documents, write briefs, and help prepare for trials. The workload in our summer program can be intense, but our summer associates value this fast pace and view it as preparation for a lucrative and successful career in law.

In 2019, our Atlanta, New York, Raleigh, Richmond, San Diego and San Francisco offices will be recruiting first year law students.

Please submit cover letter, resume and transcript to Jasmine McCall, Recruiting and Professional Development Manager, at recruiting@troutmansanders.com before February 1, 2019.
