

Fisher Phillips, a national labor and employment law firm representing employers, is seeking outstanding first-year law students to join our 2019 summer program as our 2019 Leadership Council on Legal Diversity (LCLD) 1L Scholars. The 2019 LCLD 1L Scholars will participate in our 2019 summer program in either the Irvine, Los Angeles or Philadelphia office. In addition to participating in the firm's summer program, the LCLD 1L Scholars will participate in the LCLD Scholar Program, which includes attending the LCLD Scholars Summit in Atlanta, June 4-6, 2019. The 2019 summer program will begin on May 20, 2019 and will end on July 26, 2019.

The summer program at Fisher Phillips is designed to give you a realistic view of what it is like to practice as a first-year attorney at our firm. We challenge you with meaningful work assignments that reflect the depth and breadth of labor and employment law. In addition to formal research and writing assignments, you will have the opportunity to attend court appearances, depositions, client meetings and mediations.

Qualifications:

We seek highly motivated students from diverse backgrounds who possess excellent academic credentials and a genuine interest in labor and employment law. Prior work experience in management or human resources is helpful, but not required. Candidates must be currently enrolled as a first-year law student in good standing at an ABA accredited law school.

Application Process:

To apply, please visit our careers pages at <https://apply.fisherphillips.com/virecruitex/virecruitselfapply/ReDefault.aspx> on or after January 1, 2019. All applications must include a cover letter, resume and law school transcript with first semester grades to be complete. In your cover letter, please describe why you are interested in participating in the LCLD 1L Scholars Program, your commitment to diversity and inclusion, and your interest in practicing labor and employment law at Fisher Phillips. The application deadline is February 22, 2019.