

Neonu Jewell

Project Consultant, VallotKarp; Executive Director, Niyah Center

Neonu Jewell brings over 20 years of legal and corporate experience to her current focus on personal and professional development, transformational leadership, and promoting inclusion.

Jewell launched her legal career as a corporate and international regulatory compliance attorney at Thompson Hine LLP in Washington, D.C. She later served as international trade counsel in Fortune 100 companies (e.g., Accenture, Lockheed Martin, and Raytheon) and was recruited by the CEO to become the president and general counsel of a technology company.

Before joining VallotKarp, Jewell was a corporate recruiter at Major, Lindsey & Africa, where she specialized in identifying diverse legal talent. She currently develops and facilitates personal and professional development workshops and corporate training. In addition to coaching high performers, Jewell is the Executive Director of the Niyah Center, an ethical, interfaith, empowerment, and social justice center.

Jewell holds a J.D. from Georgetown University Law School as well as both an M.B.A. and a B.S. in business administration from Florida A&M University (FAMU). She will earn an M.Div from Union Theological Seminary, Columbia University in May 2021.

LEADERSHIP COUNCIL
ON LEGAL
DIVERSITY